

my dream!: design notes

---

Please find below the list of companies with whom I do not share the same vision of moving towards better IT

- Motorola Solutions
- HSBC Service Delivery
- Altkom Software Services & Consulting
- VSoft
- media-press.tv
- e-Xim IT
- ABB
- KPMG
- Transactor Poland
- Commarch

This named list is drawn solely based on my experiences with those companies either working for them or across the last seven months or so.

While talking to them, holding talks with them or working with some of them, i.e. HSBC Service Delivery, they proved high degree of unprofessionalism towards IT and my humble person.

If you believe in my dream and feel right about what I a try to do, in my humble opinion you should refrain yourself from applying for a job at those companies.

They do not share the same values regarding software development, the philosophy of doing software development and broad vision of teaching young devs core rules behind good software development.

Moving towards - what I see is the right direction - requires professionalism & commitment from both sides.

On the other hand I do appreciate efforts made by other companies up to this day regarding building better IT, which in turn implicitly creates better tomorrow for our children and not only.

I do recognize the fact that is not easy pushing forward for these changes and the fact that it will take some time to fully start out this process.

But I remain fully committed to this movement, which is of the highest priority for Dabrowski Software Development.

For you to draw the better picture of my dream I can safely tell you that I also recognize the fact that great engineers from Microsoft worked so hard for us to have first computers with Windows operating system and they work nowadays so hard for us as well to have cutting edge solutions in the shape of AI, Cloud Computing, more powerful and robust programming languages among other technologies.

This aims at telling you that I truly understand how much work is ahead us as well as that it is a long-term goal to achieve.

Thank you for your attention and dedicated time to read this paper.
